

WHAT THE JURY SAW IN THE FIRST TWO FILMS OF THE ECLIPSE TRILOGY.

MOON IN SCORPIO / BLACK BOX FILM FESTIVAL JURY

“A VERY WELL DONE LYNCHIAN FEVER DREAM THAT EXPLORES THE VIOLENCE AND SELF-DESTRUCTION AT THE HEART OF AMERICAN CULTURE.”

“AMBITIOUS AND UNSETTLING.”

“EVOCATIVE AND DISTURBING AND SELF-ASSURED IN ITS ODD TONE.”

“A FUN AND MESMERIZINGLY TRIPPY FILM TO WATCH!”

JERRY TOTH / INTERNATIONAL AVANT-GARDE FILM AWARDS / THOTH

PISCES RISING

UNREAL ENGINE PREVIS / RYAN CHANG

PSYCHOLOGICAL THRILLER / SCREENPLAY COMPLETE / APPROX. 80 MINUTES / WRITTEN & DIRECTED BY RYAN CHANG

THE STORY

With 96 hours until a solar eclipse, recruits begin disappearing from a brutal military conditioning program built around obedience to the Star. As the Sergeant's command fractures, Leo, the one recruit it cannot fully break, begins to glimpse the Pisces Queen - an enigmatic woman presiding over another world just beyond the camp. As the two worlds converge, Leo must survive the collapse of the Star and face whatever the Queen has chosen him for.

A CONSTANTLY CONSTRICTING BOTTLE THRILLER THAT TIGHTENS THROUGH THE FINAL FRAME.

THE TERRITORY

Pisces Rising expands territory Ryan has already made his own in Moon in Scorpio and THOTH: pornography, projection, institutions and the violence they feed in American culture. Institutions turn men into instruments while projection turns women into prizes, roles and utility until desire becomes its own trap. The feature asks what it takes to unprogram and find the gold beyond the damage.
